Re: Paul Bergin v. United States, Civil no. 16-3040 (JLL).

Dear Honorable Chief Judge Linares:

I completed my Reply to The Government - Respondent's Opposition to my 28 U.S.C. § 2255 over two weeks ago. Yet I was stymied in my desire to send it out by copying delays and the legal process which we are subject to at this institution.

Legal mail to the Court and prosecutors is considered to be "social mail." Before it is sent out it is reviewed by institutional staff and then sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for review.

My Reply consisted of almost four hundred pages and right now it sits on an agents desk, collecting dust and awaiting their scrutinization.

Please be informed that they have complete and unfettered discretion to deny our legal work being sent to you and could even demand that charges be made. I know this is unconstitutional and in derivation of our Democratic principles; but it is the process I am subject to. You may wish to investigate this.

Moreover, our Commander in Chief, Chief Law Enforcement Officer, has opined and determined the veraciousness of our Department of Justice and Federal Bureau of Investigation.

So, I am concerned with when my Reply will be released.

I am committed to my cause, seeking justice and clearly proving I am innocent.

Please excuse the delay in receiving my Reply but it is not my fault. I had prayed you would have already received it.

Thank you,
Most respectfully,

PAUL W. BERGRIN
